Read the text:

A Day at the Park

Anna and her brother Tom spend every Saturday at the park near their house. The weather is usually warm and sunny, and they enjoy being outside. They wake up early because they are always excited to go. After breakfast, they pack a small backpack with sandwiches, apples, water, and a blanket. Their dog Brownie jumps around happily when he sees them getting ready.

When they arrive at the park, Anna goes to the swings and tries to swing high, while Tom climbs the slide and laughs loudly. Brownie runs in circles and barks happily.
After they play on the playground, they ride their bikes around the lake. The water shines in the sunlight, and Brownie runs next to them. Sometimes he stops to smell flowers or to look at butterflies.

Around noon, they sit under a big oak tree and have a picnic. They eat their food, talk about school, and watch the ducks near the lake. The ducks come closer because they want something to eat.

At the end of their day, Anna and Tom feed the ducks. They throw small pieces of bread while Brownie watches quietly. Before they go home, they take a few photos to remember their fun Saturday. They always have a great time at the park.
